President's Column

In July we held the annual Kids on the Range Day event. From a weather standpoint, we can compare KORD with June's Women on Target by borrowing a theme from Dickens: KORD was the wettest of events and WOT was the driest of events. The KORD concerns centered on keeping everyone dry with an ever-vigilant eye on the sky and radar for severe weather and assuring everyone was sheltered—and mud, mud, and more mud. WOT kept that ever-vigilant eye out for a grass fire. While it rained much of time, the weather gods shined on us by keeping severe weather away and not requiring an interruption of the events and evacuation of the ranges to shelter. And of course, about the time the teams were completing their final rotations, the clouds went away and good ol' Sol came out to bathe us in heat and humidity.

There were no doubts and concerns regarding the coordination beyond the weather. The months of planning by Val, the coaches, and the teams produced another fine event. Each part of the whole was staffed by our volunteers. Wrist bands were issued to confirm registration and attendance at the safety briefing. The ranges were prepared. Refreshments were delivered to the ranges. Guides steered the teams from station to station. Cookies were baked. Melon was cut and chilled. Pizza was ordered and delivered. Ice water was available. The coaches—from Archery, to Shotgun, to Rifle, to Pistol, to High Caliber, to Pinshoot—provided their oversight and skill to the participants. A demonstration of a well-planned and executed event is that everything goes according to schedule and any snags are not apparent to anyone except to the snag monitors. We met that standard. Thank you to Val, the coaches, and all the volunteers. This is just one more example of the skill and commitment of our members.

The mud we encountered was mainly due to the arrival of a great amount of soil on the grounds just days earlier. We were able to arrange with a local company conducting earth moving on the US-23 project to deliver, stage, and mold improvements to our backstops and berms. The Turkey Bays were increased in height by a few feet. The berm to the right side of the Rifle Houses was elongated to now provide a complete sight break between Rifle and the Pistol House. The left side of the Pistol House berm was improved. And a berm was added to the Trap Range to help protect the creek. The Trap berm is some 16 plus feet in elevation and some 300 plus feet in length. The existing berms at the Pistol Ranges were reconditioned, to counteract never-ending gravity. Planning continues to use these improvements to better utilize our grounds and ranges.

The possibility of receiving soil began in mid-winter. Two companies contacted us to determine if we needed dirt. The benefit on their end was that they saved costs related to wages and fuel to deliver soil to us in their back yard, so to speak. Each company offered delivery, machinery, skilled operators, and time in exchange for a closer re-positioning of the soil. On our end, we answered several question relating to zoning with the township and county. Each range was evaluated to determine how we may be able to employ more dirt. The Board approved contractual language that included that once the dirt was delivered and positioned, they (the company) would not move it again or take possession again. The start time finally arrived, and the company and Tim G. sprang into action. Within a few short days they had completed the project. Our spearhead was Tim G. Other notables were Phil C., Pam and Don H., Mike C., Mark B., Steve J, Dave V. Thanks to all who worked on this (if I missed specific mention). As we move forward, the watchword is "patience." We need to ensure that these ranges are opened with compliance and safety as the highest considerations.

Moving into August we all know the drill. The calendar is accessed at <https://tcsi.org/#calendar>. Regular events include education meetings and classes, a hunter education field day, pin shoots with handguns and PCC and .22 rifles, rifle matches, Wednesday Range Time, IDPA Saturday match. The Steak Fry is on August 25, and help is always needed. The Board meeting is August 17; no membership meeting in August. We hope to see you at the Club.

Early in September IDPA is holding their 3-day Challenge Match. Ranges will be closed as they are prepared for the competition. Check the calendar and email blasts to plan your range time to avoid disappointment.

Remember we are members and owners of the Club. Let's take pride in it. We are also caretakers of the Club. Many preceded us to form and operate the Club. We need to conduct today's activities to ensure that it's here for tomorrow. Skill development, safety, and community are a few of the goals we should aspire to.

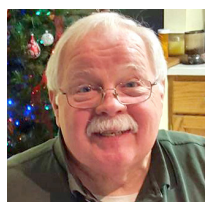

August is a vacation month for many. May your travels be safe and relaxing if you are traveling. All others have a safe and fruitful month.

Yours in community,
Stuart Berry

Memorial & Wellbeing Celebration & Thanks

Rob and Beth Bolog welcomed their 4th grandchild on June 27, 2023. Alice weighed 8 lbs 6 ounces and was 21 1/2" long. She may end up being tall like her dad, Robbie. Although she is keeping Robbie and Jen awake at night, Alice is doing great. Her older sister Norah is tickled to be a big sister. A trip to Nashville so grandpa can meet her is in the works!

Bob Parent passed away peacefully at home on July 29, surrounded by his loving family. Bob was a long-time member and instructor at TCSL and will be missed by many. Private cremation services have taken place. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions can be made in Bob's honor to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Please keep the Parent family in your thoughts and prayers as they deal with their loss. You can send a message or an ecard to Carol at cbrklich25@hotmail.com.

First-Ever IBS 100-Yard 22LR Match Held

On Thursday evening, June 22, 10 shooters met to compete in the first-ever IBS 100-yard 22LR rifle match at TCSL. Shooters were given 20 minutes to complete a 6-bull IBS 100 yard target, with 5 shots on each bull. The first bull was for sighting, then the next 5 bulls (25 shots) were for score. The breeze played a little havoc with us, as did our inability to calm down and take our time. And each bullseye is only about 4" in diameter, with the 10 ring not much bigger than the 22 bullet. There will be three more of these Thursday night IBS matches this summer.

Check the calendar for dates and times. Here are the results from the June match:

Place	Name	Rifle	Score
1 st Place	Dave Harris	Bergara B14R	212
2 nd Place	Larry Sanford	Anschutz 1807	208
3 rd Place	Brad Orr	Walther GX	201

We had so much fun, many of us shot a second round. There will be 2 more of these Thursday night IBS matches in August and September. Hunter Education

If you or someone you know is planning to hunt this year or even if you are just thinking you might be interested in hunting.

To purchase a hunting license in Michigan, an individual born on or after January 1, 1960, is required to successfully complete an approved hunter education course.

There are three options for completing hunter education in Michigan:

1. A traditional classroom-based course + in-person field day (typically included as part of the classroom course)
2. An online course + in-person field day.
3. A take home study course + in-person field day.

At TCSL we offer the online course + in-person field day. We have an event coming up on August 12 from 8:00am to 5:10pm.

About this Event:

Registration opens on July 15. On event day, bring a copy of online certificate/field-day voucher, eye and ear protection for shooting, drink, and lunch for the half-hour break. Ours is an outdoor range, so dress for the weather. Class fee is $8.00 (cash preferred). Do not bring guns or ammunition, they will be provided. Class starts promptly at 8am. Be early to sign in and get seated. A 50-question test will be given at the end of the day, so be prepared. We encourage parents or hunting partners to come and sit in on the class at no charge. You can't help in the test or shoot, but you might have fun; and it's a good refresher. Guests should bring the same essentials as participants (less certificate and cash).

To register, create an account at: <https://michigan.storefront.kalkomey.com/em/programs>

I would be glad to answer any questions, just contact me at huntereducation@tcsl.org.

Hope you are having a great summer.

2023 Kids on the Range Day

And just like that . . . the event's over. We had:

46 kids + parents
55 volunteers
No severe weather!
Lots and lots of mud

Thank you, thank you, THANK YOU to all of the volunteers (and participants, too) for everything you did to make this year's event a success! I felt like every volunteer was in the right spot.

When asked how they heard about KORD, parents responded with either "attended previously" or "through a member," so thank you for that as well.

Again, thanks to both Cottage Inn and Cabela's for their financial support. Please patronize them when possible. And a HUGE thank you to the NRA Foundation, whose $1100 grant has made it possible for us to purchase youth-size rifles (which we hope to have by next July).

Same time next year? Mark your calendars for Saturday, July 13, 2024.

Gun Range Etiquette

(reprint from NRA)

Practicing good gun range etiquette isn't just good manners—it's good sense! Gun range etiquette is a blend of common sense, courtesy, and safety. A day at the range is fun, and good gun range etiquette makes it even better.

Most clubs and ranges require shooters to attend a safety class prior to using the range. This certifies that you've read and understand the NRA Basic Rules of Gun Safety and the specific rules that apply at the range you're using. Remember that there may be other gun safety rules that are enforced on your range, but these three rules are ALWAYS appropriate, no matter where you are:

1. ALWAYS keep the gun pointed in a safe direction.
2. ALWAYS keep your finger off the trigger until ready to shoot.
3. ALWAYS keep the gun unloaded until ready to use.

Most ranges have Range Safety Officers (RSOs), also known as Range Masters) whose job is to supervise shooters, to enforce the rules and regulations of their ranges, and to handle any problems that may occur. Pay attention to the RSOs, who will tell you what to do in case of an emergency. Remember that the Range Safety Officer has absolute authority on the range. Compliance with his or her instructions is mandatory.

When you arrive at a range, introduce yourself to the RSO and let him/her know if this is your first visit to the range. The RSO will tell you what you need to know before you set up your gear.

Know the basic range commands, and learn other commands that are used at your range. If you don't understand what they mean, ask the Range Safety Officer. He or she will be happy to explain it to you. Remember that asking questions is a sign of intelligence and maturity.

Two of the most common range commands are Ceasefire and Commence Firing, although sometimes it is said differently. Instead of "ceasefire," some ranges are using the words, "Stop shooting!" and instead of "Commence Firing," some are using the phrase, "You may begin shooting." This is because we want our instructions to be as clear and as easy to understand as possible.

Ceasefires are used whenever all shooting must stop, whether it is because time's up or because a potential problem has arisen. Whenever the RSO's attention must be away from the firing line, he or she will call a ceasefire. Whenever someone needs to go downrange for any reason, a ceasefire is called. Ceasefires are also called when it's time to post, change or retrieve targets.

However, the RSO is not the only person who can call a ceasefire. Anyone who spots a potential problem should call "Ceasefire!" The RSO will repeat the words and see to it that all firing stops immediately. If you aren't sure what's happening, it's okay to call a ceasefire. It's better to call a ceasefire and be safe than not to call one and be sorry.

Ceasefires are used in all kinds of situations—not just when it's time to change, post, or retrieve targets. Perhaps a person has inadvertently wandered out onto the firing range, or perhaps a shooter in the point next to you has become ill. It's your duty to call a ceasefire so that the RSO can take control of the situation and provide a solution or direct others to provide assistance if necessary.

During a ceasefire, there should be no handling of firearms. The key things to remember are:

1. Chamber is empty and ammunition source (magazine) is removed
2. Action is open.
3. Hands off!
4. Step away from the firing line.

Before anyone goes downrange, the RSO will do a visual check to see that everyone has stepped away from the firing line, and then ask, "Is everyone clear?" Everyone else on the line should also make this visual check, because safety is everyone's responsibility.

Clear means that all shooters have made their firearms safe, that no one has a gun in his/her hand, and that there will be no handling of firearms until permission is given. Then, and ONLY then, may anyone go downrange.

When the ceasefire is over, the RSO will ensure that no one is downrange before stating, "The range is going hot." This alerts everyone that the range is shifting from a ceasefire, but it doesn't mean that shooting may begin. You must wait until the "commence firing" command has been given before you can shoot.

Commence Firing is the command given that tells everyone it's safe to shoot. That doesn't mean you start blazing away. It means that when you are ready, you may shoot your gun. These are two of the sweetest words a shooter will hear.

Remember, safety is everyone's job. You are responsible for your own safety, the safety of others and for the behavior of your guests. If you see that someone else isn't following the rules, you should leave the range. Go to a safe place and report the situation as soon as possible to the authorities.

A few other rules of Good Gun Range Etiquette are:

1. Do not fire at posts, supports or target frames. These are expensive and time-consuming to replace.

2. Shoot only range-approved targets. Check with your range to find out what types of targets are allowed. Some ranges allow only approved paper, cardboard, club-furnished metal targets and clay targets.

3. If you set out target frames to support your targets before you started shooting, you will need to return them to the storage area once you are done.

4. If your club or range allows pets, keep them on leashes or under control at all times. Give careful consideration to bringing a pet to a shooting range. Remember that shooting may hurt your pet's hearing the same way it may hurt yours. Pets that scavenge (eat things that may or may not be food) should not come to a shooting range with you. Be aware that pets unused to gunfire might panic on a range.

5. It's good etiquette to leave the range better than you found it. Picking up trash, cleaning your firing station, and obeying all of the range rules are not only good gun range etiquette—they're good manners!

Bowling Pin Shoots - Open to The Public

Bowling pin shooting is a fun, but challenging event. We welcome the skilled shooter, as well as, the novice shooter to participate. We guarantee you will enjoy yourself, while enhancing your shooting skills. Members and Non-members are encouraged to bring friends/family along with them.

PCC & .22 Rifle Bowling Pin Shoot

Sundays: August 20, September 24

11:30am until 4:00pm

Shooting starts at 12:00 noon.

The cost for each relay (20 pins = 5 pins x 4 tables) is $5.00.

The shooter stands 20 yards away from a structure, with 5 bowling pins on it. A safety officer, with a timer, will give the command to commence firing, at which time the shooter will begin shooting until all 6 pins are knocked down. The time it takes to knock 5 pins down is recorded. The average time of the shooters best 3 tables will determine his/her score. Bragging rights are determined by the lowest shooter's score.

If you don't own a PCC or .22 rifle and would like to participate, there are several members on site who are willing to loan you their .22 rifle for this event.
